WE WANT YOU

LOOTPAY

Who Is LootPay?

Lootpay is a payments company that helps businesses save money on transactions while keeping customers coming back. We partner with leading acquirers giving merchants access to world class payments infrastructure and support.

For agents, this means you get to offer a service that every business needs: cheaper, smart and more rewarding payments. Every time your merchants process a transaction, you earn residual income – ongoing commission that builds month after month as your portfolio grows.

The Opportunity

The payments industry is massive, in Australia alone, merchants pay over $22 billion every year in processing fees, and 98% of businesses accept cards. By introducing businesses to LootPay, you position yourself in a trillion-dollar global industry that was once reserved for the “big players”

With LootPay, you don't just make a one-off commission. You build a book of business that pays you again and again. Whether it's a café processing $30,000 a month or a national retailer turning over millions, you earn a share of every transaction they process.

How You Earn

Our compensation model is simple, transparent and built for long term growth.

Personal Commissions: Earn a generous share of the commission Lootpay receives from your merchants. The share increases as your total merchant volume grows.

Overriding Commission: Once you build a team, you can unlock up to 10% additional commission on the merchant signed by your direct agents. This is not multi-level marketing – Overrides are only on the people you personally bring in. You're building your own company.

Residual Income: Payments are made twice a month, so you see regular results for your work.

Example: If you sign a café processing $50,000 a month, and Lootpay earns 0.5% on that volume, that's $250/month. E.g. At 40% split, you earn $100 every month from that one merchant. Multiply that by ten, twenty, or fifty merchants and the numbers add up quickly. Find merchants with larger volume and fast track it.

Ben
Full Time Electrician

I work full-time as an electrician and was referred to Lootpay by a friend. I was a little sceptical at first, but with the training and support provided, I've really enjoyed the challenge of learning a new industry. It's been rewarding to support my friends and network in their businesses while bringing them real value.

Earnings: I now make a solid mid four figures each month in recurring revenue just by helping my business contacts save on their payments and earning a benefit for myself along the way
